Get Started with Numerro

Introduction

Thanks for signing up for Numerro! Our goal is to make Numerro super easy to use. Here are some helpful tips and resources to build your first great looking report.

The process of building reports using the Numerro Toolkit:

1. Either choose a Template or a Canvas Grid as your starting point.

2. Drag and drop visualizations of your choice onto the canvas grid or replace them on your template and populate them with your own data and text, resizing where necessary. Don't forget to remove the grid elements as you go to improve performance!

3. With a populated report and components consisting of your own data, you can now apply a Numerro theme to achieve the professional look you're after.

4. Apply the finishing touches by adding your own icons, updating the elements within the navigation bar, and adding a slicer panel with pop out functionality.

It's as simple as that. There's no back and forth trying to determine which colors to use. No worrying about the alignment of visuals, or the layout of the report. The process is faster and easier, whilst ensuring you can consistently build well-designed reports.
